I'm neither xenophobic or socialistic, but kowtowing to the whim of "Big-Business" in their desire to tamper with the Made in the U.S.A. label is a shame.

How else can a middle class American be able to make a morally correct decision in buying something when I want to help other middle class Americans. Not exploited slave labor from China and so on.

Please stop the greed and smallness of not so big business

Thank You
Michael T. Hurley
