To Whom It May Concern:

Please do not make a sham of the "Made in USA" label on products.

It is so distressing to try to buy any products that say "Made In USA". There are so few now. This has caused untold damage to workers and our economy. Do not add insult to injury by trying to deceive Americans into thinking ~~th~~ we are buying things made here at home that are being made in 3rd world and other places by cheap labor and even children.

Already components of autos, electronics, clothing, glass etc are made other places and some assembled here. The labels should be honest and state where the product is made.

Deception won't solve the anger Americans have because so many jobs have been taken out of our country!
