Dear Sirs:

I have concerns about the proposed Business Opportunity Rule R511993. I appreciate the FTC's responsibility to protect the public but some sections in this proposal will make it difficult for me to follow through w/ my home based business... a business that has helped others. For one thing the 7 day rule will carry an implication that this business is not of great honor - untrue. Products such as TV's & cars do not have this waiting period before being purchased → big money for them!

iPads.com

also, the requirement for release of information ~~seems~~ re: lawsuits etc seems unfair in that it does not address the problem of wrongful suit + litigation resulting in a finding of innocence of wrongdoing. Manufacturers, securities firms etc are not required to show/address lawsuits re: misconduct. → why small business also - the requirement of 10 prior purchases violates their privacy and exposes them to identity theft.

I own this small business because it is a way to help others while supplementing my income as a dental hygienist. I hope it will build to the point that I may retire from the dental world when my employer also retires.

This proposal can impair my growing business that would be too sad.

Thank you for considering my letter.
