Re: Unsubstantiated claims for Coronavirus prevention or treatment

Dear Dr. Dadurian:

This is to advise you that FTC staff reviewed your website at <https://mdbeautylabs.com> in October 2020. We also reviewed a story sponsored by Daniela Dadurian, M.D. at <https://www.palmbeachpost.com/sponsored/20200412/peptides-and-other-options-to-boost-your-immune-system> and your social media websites at <https://www.facebook.com/MDBeautyLabs> and <https://www.instagram.com/mdbeautylabs/> where you provide a contact phone number and direct consumers to your website, <https://mdbeautylabs.com/>, to schedule IV therapy and purchase supplements. We have determined that you are unlawfully advertising that certain products and services prevent or treat Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19).

Some examples of Coronavirus prevention or treatment claims that are currently accessible on these websites include:

- In a sponsored story posted April 12, 2020 in The Palm Beach Post titled “Peptides and other options to boost your immune system” you state:

“A peptide that increases immune function: Thymosin Alpha-1.

The reality of the Corona Virus Covid-19 has caused a lot of fear and a feeling of helplessness. Reality is that other than preventative measures such as social distancing, frequently washing our hands and generally trying to avoid exposure, there is not much we can do. It only makes sense that we should boost our immune system so that we can improve our chances to fight off disease.

Thymosin Alpha-1 is a peptide made up of 28 amino acids that has been found to regulate immune function. It is an FDA approved medication that is widely used in multiple types of cancer and viral illnesses. Some physicians are even using it for chronic fatigue and lymes disease. In addition to improving the immune system it also stops viral replication. This peptide can either be used as a nasal spray or twice weekly as an injectable.

In addition to Thymosin Alpha-1 there are several other IV Therapies and Supplements that are beneficial.

IV Vitamin C Therapy – Helps the immune system and possibly inhibit viral replication

IV Glutathione Therapy – Powerful Antioxidant

IV Colloidal Silver Therapy – Antimicrobial and Immune Boost

AHCC- Japanese Medicinal Mushroom Extract – Supports Immune Function

Vitamin D3 - Helpful to enhance immune function

Path DS - Provides a powerful combination of herbs to naturally support a healthy immune system.

Liposomal Vitamin C

Liposomal Glutathione

Liposomal Curcumin

Melatonin - Has been found to have anti-viral properties

Wellness Tonic- A blend of medicinal herbs that help boost the immune system

PRP spray - Purified Immunoglobulins from cow's colostrum

Zinc – Supports immune system

We also have an Immune Support kit, containing mineralized D3, Liposomal Vitamin C, Zinc and Immuno PRP Spray.

Please call our office at 561-655-6325 for further information. We can ship all of these supplements to you or curb side pickup is available.”
