INTRODUCTION

The National Do Not Call Registry (Registry) provides consumers with an easy and efficient way to register their preference not to receive most telemarketing sales calls.

The Registry has continued to grow since its inception in the summer of 2003. At the end of Fiscal Year (FY) 2014 (October 1, 2013 – September 30, 2014), there were more than 217 million active registrations.[1] Consumers can register their phone number(s) on the Registry by either calling a toll-free number (888-382-1222) from the telephone number(s) they wish to register or using the do-not-call website (https://www.donotcall.gov). The do-not-call rules require telemarketers and sellers to remove the numbers on the Registry from their call lists at least every 31 days. Telemarketers can access the Registry through a website (https://telemarketing.donotcall.gov) dedicated to that purpose.

Consumers notify law enforcement of violations of the do-not-call rules by submitting complaints to the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) via either the toll-free number or the website. Law enforcement officials can then review these complaints, as well as consumer registration information and telemarketer access information, through the Consumer Sentinel Network (CSN), a secure Internet website maintained by the FTC. For more information about CSN, please visit www.FTC.gov/sentinel. Law enforcement personnel may join CSN at https://register.consumersentinel.gov.

The National Do Not Call Registry Data Book contains statistical data regarding the registrations on the Registry, the subscriptions of entities (e.g., telemarketers and sellers) accessing phone numbers on the Registry, and the complaints consumers submit to the FTC about companies allegedly violating the do-not-call rules.

The National Do Not Call Registry Data Book for Fiscal Year 2014 is based on unverified complaints reported by consumers. This report is not based on a consumer survey.

[1]For the purposes of this report, "active registrations" are those registrations consumers have placed on the Registry and have not been subsequently deleted by the consumer or removed by the FTC because the number was disconnected and reassigned. If a telemarketer downloaded the Registry on the reported day, this is the number of registrations that would have appeared. Previously, the reported number included every number a consumer had placed on the Registry regardless of its current deletion or re-registration status.

[1] Complaint types refer to National Do Not Call Registry complaints in which the consumer responded affirmatively to the questions: "Have you asked this company to stop calling you?" or "Was the call a recorded message?". On September 1, 2009, the National Registry began accepting all complaints regarding calls using a recorded message, regardless of the registration status of the called number.

[1] "Active Registrations" reflect the total number of phone numbers registered on the National Do Not Call Registry as of September 30, 2014.

[2] Population estimates are based on the 2013 U.S. Census population estimates (Table NST-EST2013-01 – Annual Estimates of the Population for the United States, Regions, States, and Puerto Rico: April 1, 2010 to July 1, 2013).

[3] "FY 2014 Complaints" reflect National Do Not Call Registry complaints received by the FTC during fiscal year 2014.

[1] "Entities Who Paid" are telemarketers, sellers and other entities who paid fees to access the Registry. "5 or Fewer Area Codes" includes those entities who accessed five or fewer area codes; the first five area codes are provided to entities at no cost. "Exempt Entities" include organizations that engage in outbound telephone calls to consumers that do not involve the sale of goods or services, such as calls to induce charitable contributions, to raise funds for political purposes, or to conduct surveys. "Exempt Entities" also include those who are engaged solely in calls to persons with whom they have an established business relationship or from whom they have obtained express written agreement to call and who do not access the Registry for any other purpose.
