Re: Business Opportunity Rule, R511993

Dear Mr. Secretary:

On April 5, 2006 the F.T.C. proposed a new set of rules for our Industry that if not modified, could drastically impact our Industry for the negative.

I started as a door to door salesman for the Fuller Brush Company in 1960. Through diligence and a lot of honest work, I became the Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer of that company. In the 20 years with The Fuller Brush Company I learned that there are no free lunches in this industry, but there is a great opportunity for those with perseverance and honest, sustained effort.

I now own my own network marketing company and I have several thousand distributors, some of whom make hardly any money but are able to buy quality products at wholesale. I have other distributors who earn from a few dollars to a few hundred dollars, the better ones a few thousand dollars each month.

We have built a manufacturing company in Dallas, Texas that employs around one hundred people adding to the economy of Dallas, Texas and the country.

The disclosures as outlined by the F.T.C. are not all bad. We can, and do, have a refund policy. We are happy to disclose our return ration which for several years has been less than 1/2 of 1%. We make local people in our business known and available.

We never claim a specific amount of money that an applicant will earn, as their own effort and abilities are the determining factors. However, to do all of the above in a seven day advance of joining is not practical and would in fact deny many people the opportunity to add additional income to their life.

This industry is one of the great contributors to small business growth in America broadening the tax base and moving America forward. Help us, with the F.T.C., in growing our business, not significantly impairing that growth.

Sincerely yours,

J
