

522418-70634

Jan Bloom
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

July 10, 2006

FTC Office of Secretary, Room H-135 9 (Annex W)
Re: Business Opportunity Rule R511993

To whom it may concern.

I have been a Unicity distributor for 13 years. I am very concerned about this proposed bus. opp. rule R511993.

I operate a legitimate business that has contributed both financially and physically to my family. The proposed rules are RIDICULOUS. I would be extremely upset if my personal information were provided to potential customers of Unicity products. I am also uncomfortable giving out the information of others in a world of identity theft!!

This is no ones business to know the personal data of other people using unicity products. I am hysterical to think you would ask this to be done!

As far as waiting 7 days for a customer to aquire product.... that is outrageous! Our company has a 100% buy back policy of their $40.00 distribtuor kit.

There is absolutely no risk to ANYONE who wants to be a dsitributor with Unicity or any risk to anyone that wants to consume the products since we have a 60 Day money back guarantee on products.

As far as legal disclosures.. also extremely out of line.. Unicity has never been guilty of any wrong doing and to mention legal actions ever taken by disgruntled people who are trying to beat the system.. is unfair and gives Unicity a negative name that is unnecessary.

If I have to tell my prospective business associates that their personal information is going to be provided all over the county when they start their business ... they will be reluctant to work with me. I know I would never work with a company that did that!!!

All I can say is this is a wonderful industry. It has provided an honest opportunity for thousands of people to become financially stable. I started with Unicity 13 years ago because the products were important to us. Now .. 13 years later.. this is our livelihood.. we depend on this income to survive and so do many of my business associates.

I appreciate the fact that you want to protect consumers.. but this new rule will have horrendous unintended consequences on thousands of people and there are many creative ways that you can accomplish your goals of protecting the people and not hurting the honest business people who depend on this industry of direct sales for their incomes.

Thank you for considering my thoughts.

I beg you PLEASE do not impose these rules..

THEY WOULD BE DEVASTING TO THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE

[REDACTED]
Jan Bloom

Unicity International Distributor
[REDACTED]