To whom it may concern:

My business network has been infiltrated several times in the past year by Spyware/Adware, costing a great deal due to lost productivity and expensive "cleaning" software. The companies that install their adware without notification should be easy to find as their adware links straight to their company site.

This SPAM practice has got to be outlawed as I imagine it is costing businesses millions of dollars nationwide in lost productivity, extra software purchases and installation, etc.

Also, the privacy of the business/consumer is violated by these roque programs that totally take over your computer network.

Please do what you can to get statutes passed to go after and fine these companies.

Thank you for reading my comments.
