" I just can't get my computer to do anything, it is very very slow. " This is the complaint I have heard. The first couple of times it had me confused, but now I know exactly where to look. My customers computers are so loaded with spyware, adware, and spyware that relights itself like those prank birthday candles. These victims are not aware that the free cursor, or music player, or toolbar that they downloaded meant that they gave up all rights to the use of their computer. Rape is a word that best describes it. Their computers have been raped of resources and privacy. The other complaint is, "It will not let me uninstall it " That is a crime if you ask me. THIS PROBLEM IS WORSE THAN SPAM !!!!!
